The Amnesty Bill.

In the House of Representatives Tuesday a vote was taken on Mr. Beck's bill to remove political disabilities. The bill was amended (amendment given in brackets below, passed by a vote of 123 to 57), so as to read as follows:

Be it enacted, de., That all legal and political disabilities imposed by the third ection of the Fourteenth Article of the endment to the Constitution of the United States, or persons therein men-oned, because of their having engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to enemies thereof, be, and the same are

Wheeling has no interest in this route Let us inquire if this is route or range with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad for the use of the Central Ohio track from Neff's to Baltimore; and if Wheeling would doubtless be equally easy to arrange for the use of the track from Neff's to Wheeling. Then its passenger trains would arrive in and depart from Wheeling—in short, Wheeling would be its actual terminus, as under no other cir-

A BILL to prevent the wanton killing of buffaloes an the public lands has been introduced into the House of Representatives. It is the custom of hunters on the plains to kill from five to fifty of these animals in a day, and leave them without even cutting out their tongues, while there are thousands of Indians who de- be delivered to the Benwood, Belmont, pend on them for subsistence. It is therefore very important to preserve them. The bill imposes a fine of $100 for every animal killed, except for food or its hide, and proposes to give half of this to the

A CERTAIN reserve on the part of an individual, and an indisposition manifested by him to be "bothered" with people, have always been held, more particularly in rural communities, to be highly offensive, it not sinful. This fact, a young man in Nantucket has discovered to his perplexity. He was absurd enough to desire to be left alone while residing in that place, and for this reason sought to hire a place, and for this reason sought to hire a fer that their respective points should monopolize the benefits to be derived monopolize the benefits to be derived the points are the points of the property of the sive, it not sinful. This fact, a young a private family. This sort of thing being entirely inadmissible, the people of Nan-tucket immediately pronounced him to

The appellate tribunal affirmed the decision of the court below, and held the court below to the cour the decision of the court below, and held that both the ordinance of the city and the act of the Legislature authorizing the currency show that the small notes were issued simply for the accommodation of the citizens, and were intended to have the same value as, and to be redeemable in Confederate money. During the war, the city, it was held, was at all times ready to redeem the corporation currency.

Again, is there any more conflict of inready to redeem the corporation currency, ready to redeem the corporation currently, and, as Confederate notes have now become utterly worthless, it was decided that the holder of small notes issued by the city of Lynchburg could not enforce their redemption in the present legal currency of the United States.

A woman who is in "a state of mind" over the question of ruffles or puffs, writes to the New York Citizen and Round Table thus: "The triumph which a woman teels on being the recipient of unlimited male homage, or when she is the delight of male beings' learts, is but as a rushlight, a farthing dip to a lambent lamp, filled with the purset Astral oil, gorgeous gleaming chandelier of glaring gas, when compared with the rust sifaction and complacency and pure Joy compared with the raysum days of sat-isfaction and complacency and pure joy which feeds her noble soul when every woman in the room is green with envy of her. The utter earthiness of man's gross nature may probably prevent his appreci-ation of this exalted sensation, this transnature may probably prevent his appreciation of this exalted sensation, this transfiguration which takes place in the temale bosom at intervals, but most women know it and feel it, and in fact I know how it is myself."

Reconnoissance for the Belmont and Totedo Rail Road, arrived in town on Tuesday morning, and, in company with some of our citizens, went up to Neff's Siding on the 9:55 a. M. train. At Neff's our party met Mr. Chalkley Dawson, who made the survey a year ago, but, owing to the fact that no conveyance was at hand to reach St. Clairsville, Messra Manning and Dawson concluded to remain there until evening and then proceed to St. Clairsville expended on which the $300,000 insures its construction at least to Wooslinder, Mr. Alman.

Business compelled us to return to Belaire in the evening, and we have heard nothing from the Bst. Clairsville papers that Mr. Manning is quite sick, at St. Clairsville route it is importance to the screek days.—Bellaire, Independent.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

This is a number that has never been

o the Editors of the Intelligencer. The question now with reference to the projected road to the Northwest, is not so much upon what route it shall be located, as whether it shall be built at all; and, after all, this is the important point.

Suppose the road built to Bridgeport, and connected with the Island by bridge. It will then be a local line, having a local trade, without Eastern connections, not terminating on the Wheeling side of the river.

All Wheeling traits, will have to be All Wheeling freight will have to be drayed to or from the Island. Wheeling will not own a controlling interest in the road. Those who do will desire if possiroad. Those who do will desire it possible to make it pay. To this end they will seek Eastern connections, and thus secure a share of through freights and

The Creek route it would not be long before Bellaire would become its actual termin-us, and Wheeling merely a way station, The investment of $300,000 in a bridge over the "back river" would then be about as barren as your Hempfield and Cucinnati and Marietta stocks. Do the people of Wheeling wish to make other such investments? Besides, the $900,000 mill be constant in building the thempfield and the such investments? will be consumed in building the " back treaty is in existence, and the plan of annexation by joint resolution has been abandoned, as several prominent Senators who will vote for a treaty have given no will vote for a treaty have given no will not be built upon the Wheeling

Cleveland as well as Toledo wishes to reach the coal fields of the Tuscarawas valley; and has under consideration the building of a road from Cleveland to Wooster, where it would connect with the Toledo line. If one is built, the other will be also. Then iron ore from Cleveland and the Lakes could be delivered to the Benwood, Belmont, and other mills, without drayage from Bridgeport, as a present. In like man-ner, their manufactures can be shipped without so much drayage. Lumber from the Lakes, &c., could be laid down in Wheeling.
By this route and this arrangement

Wheeling has the actual terminus of the road, without draying from the Island. Expended on this route, the $300,000 insures the construction of the road to Wooster, and complete to that point it will be speedily carried through to Cleveland and Toledo. When it is finished it will become of the most valuable
